Based on a complex query submitted using Pro-Cite bibliographic software and the Z39.50 protocol, these citations were compiled by searching the Library's online catalog for relevant publications using the Library of Congress Control Number (LCCN) to identify records added to the catalog in a given year. For recent catalog records, the first four digits of the LCCN indicate the year the record was first entered into the online system. In addition to materials about the country, the results may also include materials published in the country which concern other geographic areas.

Because of the limitations inherent in any online catalog search, do not rely on this document as a comprehensive or authoritative list of new acquisitions in the Library's collections. The list is intended to give the reader only an idea of the wealth of materials which may be available for consultation. Search the Library's catalog for more a complete description of the status and availability of each item at: <http://catalog.loc.gov>.

Female genital mutilation is a deep-rooted traditional practice found in Africa and elsewhere for over 2500 years. Although the practice has been banned in Kenya it continues secretly causing physical, psychological, religious, and relational harm to thousands of women. This video takes a three part approach to this topic. The first part is the launching of a book "Female circumcision" by Sr. Dr. Ephigenia W, Gachiri spelling out the effects of this rite on women. The second part is a dramatization of a true case study by Loreto Limuru Girls High School showing the kind of pressure put on a girl by the cultural environment. The third part brings out the Christian alternative rite of passage being offered to girls by Sr. Dr. Ephigenia and others, coupled by testimonies from women who share the real impact and complications of the operation and interviews from church readers who give their point of view on the possible solutions to this problem.

Human rights have carried the wave of democratisation particularly in the new millenium Africa. In Kenya, cases of students unrest have been on the increase. The Legal Resources Foundation, a non-governmental organisation founded in 1993 has therefore taken the initiative to answer one key question. Why students unrest? This is a documentary of its School's Outreach Programme work in informal education to enable students realise their human rights, respect the rule of law and make use of existing administrative mechanisms to effectively resolve conflicts not only at school but at home and in society as a whole. The stakeholders of informal education are encouraged to provide fora through which students can more willingly participate in the day to day decision making.

This video shows that HIV/AIDS pandemic is everyone's problem and everyone must join forces in combating the scourge. It is the story of an American missionary couple, Julianne & Joe Kurowski, who respond to God's calling and come to Kisumu, Kenya to help needy children. Julianne gives up her teaching job to join her retired husband on this mission. They adopt eleven children whom they are directly responsible for. In addition they take upon themselves to care for the many HIV/AIDS orphans in the area. They choose to address the plight of these orphans within their natural environment by allowing the community to play an active role. They establish a Community Based Organization (CBO) to look into the welfare of HIV/AIDS orphans.

Poverty remains one of Kenya's greatest challenges with over 46% of the countries population living below the poverty line. Most of the rural households are at the bottom of the income distribution. Most of them have no access to purchase inputs, no transport facilities, financial services, markets and market information, education, health services, and the basic human requirements such as water and sanitation. It is against this background that the Participatory Poverty Eradication Programme (PPEP) was conceived in 3 districts of Kenya i.e. Narok, Suba, and Isiolo Districts as a new innovative initiative of poverty reduction. This is a documentary on PPEP.
